

Galapagos Islands

Hotel Sol Y Mar – Puerto Ayora

The Solymar hotel started its business as a need and request from the first scientists that traveled to the islands in order to work at the Charles Darwin Scientific Station.

At that time, tourism at the island was scarce, but Don Jimmy Perez, had a clear vision about the potential of the islands and the strong ideal of sharing with others the peace and beauty that he found. He created the hotel as a place of informal hosting - simple but comfortable room with the best view that Port Ayora could offer. As the time passed, additional rooms were built, always full of visitors that truly appreciated the beauty of the landscape and the kindness of its people.

The restaurant was created under the same goal, to share with its customers and the Perez family the exquisite traditional food from Galapagos, in a familiar environment.

In January 2006, Sol Y Mar was totally rebuilt. The modifications were planned to fulfill the needs and demands of all guests currently visiting the islands.

Today the new Sol Y Mar hotel offers the same privileged location, 17 comfortable and functional rooms and facilities that will allow you to enjoy the most spectacular sea views and admire the amazing species.

Each room has a private balcony and sea view, hot water, air conditioner, a pool is next to the sea, bar and Jacuzzi, all this including our restaurant with a bay view surrounded by endless iguanas, pelicans, birds, sea wolves and much more.
